

Don't miss this opportunity for a wonderful fall workshop to capture fall colors, waterfalls and much more in Western Ontario and Michigan's Upper & Lower Peninsulas.

The dates are October 14th through October 22nd, 2017. We'll be going through Port Huron into Sarnia then along Canada's Lake Huron coast to Tobermory.

Tobermory is an awesome city containing twin harbors, sunken ships and amazing lakeshore vistas.

After two days, we'll take a ferry to Manitoulin Island. After exploring there, we'll visit Chutes Provincial Park in Massey, Ontario. Here, many waterfalls await your camera.

North Channel Inshore Provincial Park will follow ending with a stop in Sault Ste. Marie.

Down through the U.P. stopping at Tahquamenon Falls and a visit to Mackinac Island.

We'll conclude our workshop with a stop in Petoskey, one of Michigan's most beautiful cities.

This itinerary is awesome and will reward you with beautiful new pictures, new friends and cherished memories.

Cost will be $2400, which includes, transportation (we all travel together), accommodations (private rooms), all ferry rides and admissions.

Space is limited. Please contact me with any questions or concerns.

Sure hope you can come along!

With kind regards,

Monte
